Scary Snake

 Daddy and  Mammy Snakes went on a picnic with their two children,  Sid and  Baby Snake. Sid was a happy snake, who loved singing, but  Baby Snake never stopped shouting all the time.

 Daddy and  Mammy Snakes were walking slowly, while  Sid and  Baby Snake ran on ahead.  Sid got cross with  Baby Snake as the more  Sid sang, the louder  Baby Snake shouted.

All of a sudden, Scary appeared and said: 'All your noise has woken me up from my ssssss sleep!' Scary sounded angry.

 Mammy Snake ran quickly to  Sid and  Baby Snake to tell them to be quiet.  Daddy Snake apologised to Scary Snake and gave him some of their picnic food as a present. Scary was happy.

 Mammy,  Daddy,  Sid and  Baby Snake went quietly to their favourite rock where they ate their picnic and had a sleep.

They all had a great day!
